

SharePoint Connector

Communication without barriers

SharePoint is a software program commonly used for collaboration within businesses. It enables team members to store files on a SharePoint server and to share them with other team members.

ftopia takes collaboration a step further by connecting SharePoint users with non-SharePoint users and providing secure, affordable, and hassle-free file sharing with each other.

Simple and affordable file sharing with anyone

For years, the need for collaboration among team members existed mostly within organizations on an internal level. Times have changed however. The extended team structure is more prominent within business now than ever before.

With the increasing need for businesses to communicate regularly with external parties, companies must find ways to expand their content exchange systems accordingly.

SharePoint is a fantastic solution for fostering collaboration within organizations. However, things get a bit more complicated when it comes to sharing data with third parties.

Not only is SharePoint a complex program requiring training for use, it also doesn't support a number of Web browser versions. You shouldn't have to ask your customers, partners, suppliers, and contractors to go through training or to switch their browsers just so you can share information with them. In addition, extending your SharePoint license to include external users can be very costly.

The ftopia connector is the convenient, secure, and affordable way to solve these issues. Files in ftopia online data rooms can be exchanged with anyone at any time, internally and externally. Our connector enables SharePoint users to quickly upload files to ftopia data rooms for instant sharing with non-SharePoint users.

From simplicity to limitless content sharing capabilities to support of all file types and the ability to open them within any browser window, ftopia provides a bridge between your team and all the people with whom you do business.

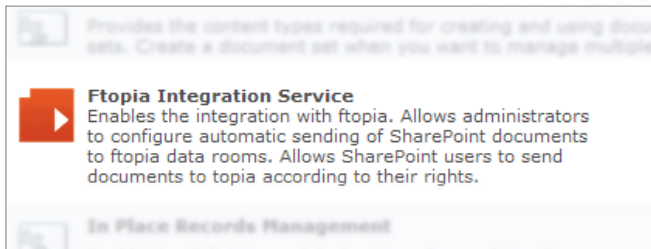

It just takes a moment to create an account and there's no software or hardware to purchase or learn to use. With our connector, you can easily leverage the wealth of documents you store in SharePoint to communicate with external stakeholders, customers, partners, and suppliers.
